REDS AID VAST ZIONIST MIGRATION

Demand Christian Religion Be Out-Lawed In Schools

SPECIAL—Because Americans have traditionally upheld the right of minority groups to practice their own religious beliefs without interference, they find it hard to believe that a small, fanatical and highly vociferous minority would seek by organized pressure tactics to deprive the Christian majority of its own religious freedom. Yet from the record it cannot be denied that U.S. Jewry is presently engaged in a deliberate and calculated campaign to water down, weaken and eradicate Christian influence wherever and whenever they encounter it. And although they constantly stress the theme of "tolerance" in their propaganda, it must be remembered that organized Jewry is not merely non-Christian, but is determinedly anti-Christian, and that they employ appeals to toleration as a device for weakening or destroying religious consciousness among Christians.

Thus, under the pretense of combatting "discrimination," the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith and other so-called Jewish "defense" agencies have instigated legislation in New York state which makes it a specific crime for a hotel or resort to advertise itself as being "near churches," or to use the phrase, "churches nearby," or similar verbiage in advertisements. The allegation is that use of such terminology is "discriminatory" and anti-Semitic...

Similarly, under the guise of preserving the "separation of church and state," the American Jewish Congress and the New York Board of Rabbis last month succeeded in pressuring New York's state education commissioner, James E. Allen, into ordering a Long Island school district to cease and desist from posting non-sectarian copies of the Ten Commandments in its classrooms. "If the end result of the display," whimpered commissioner Allen, "is to stir up bitterness and dissension, then it is better that they not be displayed"...

In nullifying the Smith Act last month, the Supreme Court freed five west coast Communist leaders and ordered new trials for nine others—all convicted in Los Angeles in 1952. Shown above are the five freed Communists, all but one of whom are Jews. From left to right they are: P. Connelly (a Gentile), F. Spector, R. Kuznitz, H. Steinberg, and in the inset, Al Richmond, Jewish editor of the Communist paper, PEOPLE'S WORLD. Ultimately, it is expected that about 40 Communists (mostly Jews) convicted under the Smith Act will be freed, while another 27 awaiting trial will probably escape trial.

Communists Hail Supreme Court Rulings As Their "Greatest Victory"

SPECIAL—From the day Earl Warren took over as chief justice, the U. S. Supreme Court has displayed an utter incapacity to hand down a ruling against either the Communist party or the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP). It is not surprising that Warren would be inclined to favor the NAACP; any man who would knowingly allow his own daughter to "date" a buck Negro to an interracial dance (as Warren once did*) would naturally be expected to show a strong pro-Negro bias. But his partiality toward the Communist party is a bit harder to explain. Nevertheless it is a fact that within the last thirty days Earl Warren and his cohorts on the Supreme Court have literally paralyzed this nation's defense against Communist subversion through one of the most incredible series of rulings ever handed down by any judicial body. As one observer put it, the Supreme Court could not have rendered greater service to the Communist party if Khrushchev and his Politburo had been sitting on the bench.

THREE GOALS

To better understand the real significance of the Supreme Court's recent rulings, the effect of which will be to rejuvenate the faltering Communist conspiracy in this country, it should be remembered that the Communists have long had three major goals. Strictly speaking, they are tactical rather than propaganda objectives, since the achievement of any one of these would go a long way toward crippling this country's defense against subversion.

Their primary goal has been the emasculation of the Smith Act, which makes it a crime to plot the overthrow of the U.S. government. Since its constitutionality was upheld (by a pre-Warren Supreme Court) the Smith Act has been the government's most potent weapon against Communist subversion. Scores of high ranking red leaders have been imprisoned since its enactment, and fear of further prosecutions has driven the party underground and seriously decimated its membership. It was the Smith Act which to all intents and purposes broke the

Soviets O.K. Vast Jewish Migration From Iron Curtain

SPECIAL—You haven't read about it in the nation's venal commercial press yet, but a vast sneak migration of Jews from the Communist occupied nations of eastern Europe to Israel is now underway, and has been in process for some months. Current estimates in the Jewish press indicate that about 100,000 Jews will enter Israel this year, mostly from the Communist satellite countries. Twenty-five thousand Zionists from Poland alone have already entered Israel thus far in 1957. Others are pouring out of Rumania, Czechoslovakia and other Communist-held countries.

To finance this tremendous new influx of Jews, U.S. Jewry, through its United Jewish Appeal, is raising a whopping $200,000,000 this year—double their usual annual budget. In addition, the Israeli government is reportedly attempting to arrange a $75,000,000 loan from the U.S. government.

This, of course, is by no means the only time the Communists have opened the floodgates of Jewish emigration to Israel, as statistics compiled by the U.S. Bureau of the Census graphically

THE SUPREME COURT MUST BE CURBED !

Northern Press Hit For Pro-Negro Bias

TIME And LIFE Magazines Lead Anti-Southern Hate Parade

SPECIAL — The northern commercial press and the major wire services (i.e. AP, UP, INS) have long observed a "gentleman's agreement" under which all news relating to the race question is either slanted to favor the cause of racial integration, or else is suppressed altogether. In short, news which will in any way advance integration (or weaken opposition to it) is given a big play, whereas news which tends to reveal the other side of the coin is either played down, distorted, or smothered. Insofar as the race issue is concerned, at least, we have a censorship in this country about on the par with that of Soviet Russia.

Innumerable instances could be cited to substantiate that thesis. Take the city of Los Angeles as an example. It has been estimated by one reliable authority (U.S. News & World Report) that 50% of all the crimes committed in that city are by Negroes. Whether the figure is accurate or not, it is certain that a very substantial number of the city's crimes are perpetrated by Negroes each year. Yet in the memory of local residents no picture of a Negro criminal has ever appeared in any of the four major daily newspapers servicing the area. Neither are Negro criminals ever identified as such, although a day seldom passes that at least one crime is not sensationalized by one or more of LA's scandal-mongering dailies. Without exception the crimes receiving publicity are committed by whites, and only white criminals ever get their pictures and descriptions in the news.

This, of course, is the crudest and most blatant form of censorship, and it is by no means restricted to Los Angeles; most northern and western newspapers adhere to the same policy to a greater or lesser extent. This velvet censorship goes a long way toward explaining why the population in the northern states, which believes itself to be so well informed on the segregation and race question, is in fact so woefully ignorant of the whole matter.

But the newspapers and wire services are by no means the only offenders. The trend toward censorship is nowhere better exemplified than in the big slick paper weekly news magazines such as Life, Time, Look and Newsweek. These publications make little if any pretense of reporting the news factually; balance, accuracy, objectivity—everything—is subordinated to a propaganda line. It is no exaggeration to say they write their news exactly as they write their advertising copy—solely for effect and impact.

We have seen the result in numerous instances in the last three or four years. For example, when the Emmett Till case broke two years ago Time and Life, along with the rest of the northern press, went into hysterics over the killing of what Life magazine described as the "child" (he weighed 160 pounds) of a . . . "soldier father who was killed in France fighting for the American proposition that all men are equal."

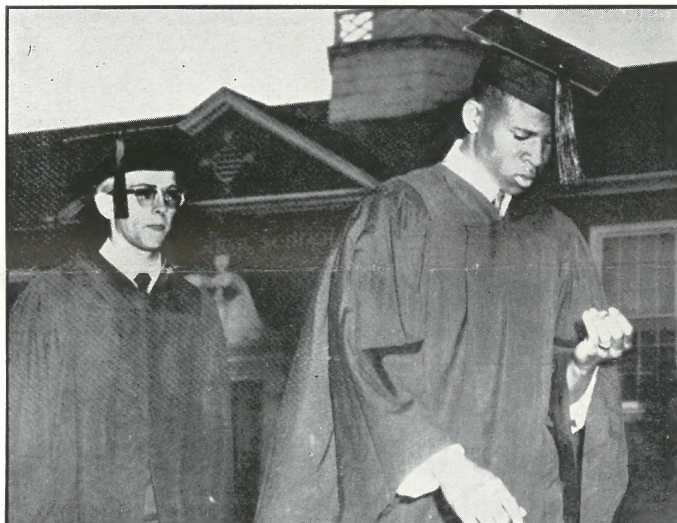

In the celebrated Emmett Till case, Life magazine fearfully eulogized young Till's father (above) as a fallen war hero, but lapsed into total silence when it was learned that he had been hanged by the Army for murder and rape in Italy. . . .

"Sleep well, Emmett Till; you will be avenged. You will also be remembered as long as men have tongues to cry against evil," sniveled Life. But when it was revealed that Emmett Till's "soldier father" had been hanged by the army for the murder and rape of a white woman in Italy, neither Life, Time nor any of the northern papers printed it. From that day to this Life, Time and the other slicks have maintained a discreet silence on the Till case.

They did a similar job on the Clinton story. When a trouble-making Baptist preacher by the same as taking a policeman's gun away from him . . . To the extreme delight of the comrades, who have vociferously clamored for such relief without avail ever since the days of Martin Dies, the power of the Un-American Activities Committee has been negated . . . neutralized . . . stripped away. Small wonder that the Communist leadership should hail these rulings as . . . "our greatest victory."

That, briefly told, is how nine would-be sociologists sitting on the Supreme Court betrayed this Typical of how the depraved and pressure-ridden northern press propagandizes the news is the picture above. It depicts what Time magazine and other northern journals hailed as an historic moment in the integration fight: the graduation of the first Negro from a public school in Tennessee. But what neither Time nor any other paper revealed was that their Negro hero was a sullen, knife-wielding terrorist who on numerous occasions had intimidated and threatened to knife Clinton white students . . .

name of Turner provoked a fist fight and got a well deserved bloody nose for his effort, the northern press (and the TV nets) gave the story a big play. For a while reverend Turner's bruised nose was the most newsworthy object in America, and pro-segregation elements in Clinton who inflicted the damage were pictured as little more than moral degenerates. But as with the Till case, the northern press lapsed into a strange silence when the facts began to go against them. Thus, when Clinton's high school finally was integrated, neither Life, Time nor any of the other northern papers printed so much as a word about the constant racial friction which ensued between white and Negro students.

But while the northern propaganda press stubbornly suppressed all news about the resultant integration fiasco at Clinton High (a fiasco characterized by numerous knife incidents, fights and racial bickering in the classrooms) it jumped at the opportunity last month to print a story which made it appear, at least, that integration was making great strides there. The occasion was the graduation of a Negro student from Clinton High. Scores of northern publications hailed the event with undisguised jubilation, of which the following excerpt from Time was more or less typical:

"On the third anniversary of the U.S. Supreme Court's decision against segregation in public schools," gloated Time, "Bobby Lynn Cain, 17, marched into the gymnasium of the Clinton High School to become the first Negro ever to graduate from an integrated school in the state" . . .

Time then went on to quote some of Cain's pearls of wisdom on integration ("It's been a tough year . . . but there's got to be a break-up in the old tradition of segregation, etc."). But Time failed to mention that "Clinton's Cain," as they lionized him, was a sullen, knife-wielding troublemaker who had on one occasion been placed in protective custody for pulling a knife on a white student, and who had on numerous occasions been charged with threatening white pupils with a knife. Nothing was said, either, about another of Cain's Negro classmates who was run out of town after threatening white students with a knife . . .

Propaganda like this goes a long way toward explaining why the population in the North remains in almost total ignorance of the racial problems facing this nation today. The news is either kept from them, or else is so twisted and distorted as to lose all meaning. For this we can thank Life, Time, Look, Newsweek and the rest of the venal commercial press upon which most of this nation depends for its news . . .

which resulted in the recent conviction of Jewish playwright Arthur Miller and other fifth-amendment reds, most of whom will go free as a result of the Court's ruling). The court, of course, cannot prohibit investigations by the Un-American Activities Committee, but it has served notice that Communist witnesses may hereafter flaunt it without fear of contempt charges. That's pretty much the nation to its enemy. In a few short days they have literally and actually gutted our defenses against Communism and have given the dying Communist party a new lease on life. Just as it paved the way for the eventual mongrelization of our Anglo-American society through its infamous "integration" decisions of 1954, so by its decisions last month did the court pave the way for the ultimate Sovietization of this Republic. The method and intent were identical in each instance: in 1954 they gave the green light to the alien-controlled NAACP; last month they gave the Communist party the all-clear signal.

It is obviously and clearly time to call a halt to the Supreme Court's vaunted "silent revolution." As to how it should be done: James Byrnes, himself a former Supreme Court Justice, delivered the formula in his now famed statement of May, 1956, in which he declared bluntly: "The Supreme Court must be curbed." In more ways than one Americans were beginning to see in those words a formula for survival.

back of the Communist party apparatus.

THE COMMITTEES

A second major goal of the CP has been to muzzle the Un-American Activities Committee and other Congressional investigative bodies. There is sound reason for this, because it was through these continuing investigations and probes that the nature of the Communist conspiracy was first made known to the public and the various government agencies concerned with it. Today you can go into almost any large public library and find volumes of data on the party: its leadership, its history, its structure, its aims and methods of operation, its dupes and fellow-travelers, its fronts. You can find there, too, the names of thousands of traitors known to be promoting revolution, both from within and without the party.

This vast storehouse of knowledge was not easily acquired. Such men as Martin Dies, Joe McCarthy, Harold Velde, Wm. Jenner, John Rankin and many others laid their reputations and political careers on the line to ferret out and throw the spotlight on these activities. As a result of their disclosures and investigations, and because of the public interest and understanding they inspired, effective legislation (including the Smith Act) and other counter-measures against the Communist conspiracy were for the first time made possible. And the Communists know that so long as the Congressional investigating committees remain on the job, every twist and turn of the party will be charted and publicized. They are painfully aware that the Congressional investigating committees have been the unrelenting nemesis of the Communist party ever since Martin Dies began his first anti-Communist investigations back in the 1930's...

THE FBI

The third major tactical goal of the U.S. Communist party has been to destroy the effectiveness of the FBI—the agency chiefly responsible for gathering the evidence which has led to the imprisonment of numerous party leaders under the Smith Act and the Internal Security Act. It was also the FBI which tracked the Rosenberg ring down, which brought the more recent Sobel to justice, and which has so

To pull the FBI's teeth the reds have long sought to force it to open its confidential files in cases where evidence gathered by the G-men has contributed to the conviction of Communist leaders and agents. To date the FBI has successfully resisted all such attempts on the grounds that such a procedure would give Moscow access to highly classified counter-intelligence data—including the names of its secret agents working within the party, whose identity the reds would give almost anything to learn. In case after case the FBI's position on this has been sustained by the federal courts...

COURT RULING CELEBRATION

LOS ANGELES — There'll be joy in Yablon Cultural Center, 7213 Beverly Blvd., Wednesday evening, July 3.

Smith Act defendants, their attorneys and friends will celebrate the recent Supreme Court rulings which freed five and ordered new trials for the remaining nine.

There will be music and dancing. A brief program will be arranged, according to Ben Dobbs, chairman of the organizing committee. Said Dobbs: "We feel it is particularly timely to celebrate on the eve of Independence Day. The recent rulings... returned to the people those precious freedoms of belief and conscience for which a July 4th had to be established in the first place."

It was fitting that the Communists should hold their "victory" celebration at the Jewish tated that if they were to regain the ground lost in recent years, or even continue to exist, they must find a way to neutralize these defenses against treason and subversion. But until last month the accomplishment of that goal remained little more than a wild dream to the Communist leadership; no one seriously believed that within a period of days the U.S. Supreme Court would rip the guts out of our anti-Communist defenses and say in effect to the Communist party:

On two occasions he accepted awards from the Communist-run "Southern Conference for Human Welfare," in which his sister-in-law, Virginia Durr, is active. She is a known Communist party member. Black, incidentally, was lavishly praised by the London Daily Worker last month as a defender of... "unknown Negroes, the tragically well-known Rosenbergs, aliens and deportees, radical professors, trade unionists and Communist leaders"...

"you're back in business again"... But that's exactly what happened.

JENCKS CASE

The FBI was the first to feel the blow when out of a clear sky the Supreme Court ruled that it must hereafter turn its files over to Communist lawyers even though to do so means revealing the identity of FBI agents on secret assignments. The ruling handed down in the so-called Jencks case cripples the FBI as an anti-Communist agency.

It means that no longer will J. Edgar Hoover and his men be able to obtain evidence against the party and bring it into court as they have so effectively done in the past. At one stroke the Supreme Court has done what the Communists have dreamed of doing for years: it put the hand-

SMITH ACT GOES

A few days later, on June 17th, the Supreme Court nullified the Smith Act with a ruling which, although it did not technically outlaw the Act, in effect makes it impossible to enforce. By this ruling the court reversed the convictions of 14 of the country's top ranking Communist officials (most of whom are Jews, incidentally), ordering new trials for nine and the freeing of the other five. From the context of the ruling it was plain that the Smith Act, the government's chief weapon against the Communist party, was a dead law. Even the Communists could hardly believe the good news...

On the same date the Supreme Court dealt a solar plexus blow to the Un-American Activities Committee and other Congressional investigative bodies. The ruling was handed down in the case of John T. Watkins, and it upheld his "right" to refuse to name his former associates in the Communist party. (It was this same refusal show. In a document entitled: "Israel: Jewish Population and Immigration," the Bureau of Census reveals that shortly after Israel was founded in 1948 there began a huge Jewish migration from the Soviet satellite countries which within a period of 40 months swelled Palestine's pre-1948 Jewish population by almost 50%—an incredible disclosure.

These official U.S. statistics indicate that from May 15th of 1948 to Sept. 30, 1951, a grand total of 298,000 Jews entered Israel from the Soviet satellites. Of these, 106,000 came from Communist Rumania, 114,000 came from Poland,

Most of the Communist satellite nations were under Jewish party bosses during this period: Anna Pauker (Rumania), Matyas Rakosi (Hungary), Jakub Berman (Poland), Rudolph Slansky (Czechoslovakia). Slansky and Pauker were later purged as Zionist extremists; Berman and Rakosi remained in power till ousted by the recent Hungarian and Polish revolts.

14,000 left from Hungary, another 19,000 departed from Czechoslovakia, and 37,000 emigrated from Communist Rumania. Eight thousand came from the U.S.S.R., Latvia and Lithuania. This great wave of emigration dwindled to a trickle after 1951 but now has reached flood proportions again.

STRANGE PERSECUTION

Because of Jewish influence over the nation's press, the American public has been kept in complete ignorance of these facts. Few even know the Communist-aided migrations described above ever occurred, and even fewer are aware of the current Communist sponsored migrations. Instead, Jewish propagandists have led Americans to believe the funds they are now raising in the U.S. are needed to settle Egypt's "persecuted" Jews in Israel—although the fact is that Egyptian Jews will account for only 25,000 of the 100,000 Jews entering Israel this year. Americans are not being told that the other 75,000 are emigrating from Communist territory—with Communist approval. In fact, Jewish propagandists in the U.S. are striving feverishly to cover up these facts by making it appear that Jews are now being "persecuted" by the Communists.

This, needless to say, is a patent absurdity, since the very fact they are permitted to emigrate from Soviet territories (even taking their possessions with them) indicates clearly that they are receiving privileged treatment over Christians, who, incidentally, are never allowed to emigrate from Communist countries...

Actually, the picture Jewish propagandists are painting for the American public, wherein Jews are made to appear as "victims" of Communism while the Arabs are depicted as being friendly to Communism, is a monstrous propaganda hoax. The truth is that the Arab nations are almost without exception anti-Communist. Not only is the Communist party outlawed in the Arab countries—including Egypt—but they obligingly furnish the U.S. with the string of air-bases which encircles the Soviet Union in a ring of steel. And several Arab states have signed anti-Russian defense pacts with the U.S.

By contrast, Israel's Jews allow no U.S. bases in their country, refuse to sign an anti-Russian pact—and permit the Communist party to function openly and legally in Israel.

And although the Communists are desperately wooing the Arab nations in an attempt to uproot our Arab-based airfields (and to deny us access to Middle Eastern oil), the Soviet Union is by no means anti-Israel or anti-Jewish—nor is Israel anti-Soviet. For proof we need only cite the vast wave of Jews now entering Israel with Russia's aid and permission—even while the barbed wire barricades are being tightened to prevent Christians from escaping the Iron Curtain...

Press Report

LOS ANGELES—Senator Wm. Knowland's treacherous decision to lead the so-called "civil rights" fight in the Senate may or may not win him Negro votes when he runs for governor of California next year, but it assuredly has cost him the support of some of his most loyal supporters, including this publication which heretofore has strongly boosted him for president...

NEW YORK—The executive committee of the American Jewish Congress has gone on record in opposition to a proposal to survey the various religious denominations as a part of the forthcoming 1960 U.S. Census. Behind Jewry's objection to an official count of Jews is the knowledge that it would reveal the true number of Jews now residing in the U.S. Jewish propagandists now insist that the present Jewish population here is only 5,200,000, whereas some observers estimate the correct figure may be double that.

WASHINGTON, D.C.—The annual attempt to foist a 49th Oriental state upon the Union will probably get under way toward the end of July when the Hawaiian statehood bill is scheduled to come before the Insular Affairs Committee. Opponents fear that if Hawaii, whose population is more than 85% Asiatic, is admitted to statehood, the way may well be paved for the later admission of Puerto Rico and other Negroidal U.S. possessions to similar status.

LOS ANGELES—A Jewish Telegraph Agency (JTA) dispatch featured in the May 17th issue of the California JEWISH VOICE reveals that for... "the first time in Israel's history" Jewish farmers leaving Communist Poland will bring their cattle and livestock with them to Israel.

SPECIAL—The recent ouster of former First-Deputy Premiers Molotov, Kaganovich and Malenkov from the Communist Party's all-powerful Presidium may be of much greater significance than is generally realized at the moment. Readers of the AMERICAN NATIONALIST will recall we have continuously emphasized that, since Stalin's death, the two men to watch in Russia were Molotov and Kaganovich—the only surviving "Old Bolsheviks" on the Presidium. We have warned repeatedly that the Bolshevik revolution of 1917 was a Jewish revolution, and that both of Soviet Russia's dictators to date (Lenin and Stalin) had Jewish wives. Furthermore, Molotov is married to a Jewess while Kaganovich (who is Stalin's brother-in-law) is a Jew. Like Stalin, both were active in the Party before the 1917 revolution (hence their designation as "Old Bolsheviks"), and so long as the Stalin-Molotov-Kaganovich "troika" endured, Russian Jewry was assured of a continued hold over the Soviet apparatus. Now, with Stalin dead, with Jewish police-chief, Beria, executed, and with Kaganovich and Molotov apparently purged, the question of whether Communism will remain a Jewish controlled movement is at least open to doubt for the first time since the 1917 revolution...

lawed in Sierra Madre schools despite the bitter protests from the community's Christian majority...

A HATED SYMBOL

These, of course, are but random examples of what is going on continuously. For unknown to most Christian Americans, Jewish agitators, under the pretense of combatting "bigotry" and "prejudice," are in reality engaged in an unrelenting war against the observance of Christmas in the schools, against the mere mention of Christianity by a public official, and against the use of the hated Christian cross at any public ceremony or function—or even on the graves of our war dead.

What is more, they insist that the New Testament is "anti-Semitic," and that all references from it should be deleted from school textbooks and history lessons. A story which appeared in the June 14th issue of the NATIONAL JEWISH POST under the headline "Anti-Semitic Textbook Removed After Protest," provides an object lesson. It was written under a Bayonne, N.J. dateline and the opening paragraph reads as follows:

"A textbook has been removed from use in history classes in the public schools here because the American Jewish Congress objected that certain passages were anti-Jewish, it was disclosed today. Sam Brown, New Jersey regional director of the AJ Congress, confirmed the action, which resulted, he said, from a complaint by a Jewish pupil in one of the Bayonne schools."

The NATIONAL JEWISH POST then proceeded to quote the "anti-Semitic" passage which led to the banning of the book, as follows:

"Jesus began traveling about in Palestine, the small land where he was born. He talked to the people who gathered about him. He talked to them about being good neighbors. He told them that all men are brothers. He asked them to believe in a just and loving God who was their father in Heaven. The teachings of Jesus stirred up hate for him among some of the Jewish leaders. They feared that the words of Jesus would make trouble and that the Roman rulers would blame them for it. They urged the Roman governor to do away with Jesus. At last the governor allowed Jesus to be put to death on the cross."

That, if you please, is "anti-Semitism" as defined by the American Jewish Congress. And on the basis of that definition the book was banned from the Bayonne schools.

In such manner does a fanatic and highly organized Jewish minority prey upon our tolerance to destroy the religious freedom of an easy going and unheeding Christian majority...

ANTI-CHRISTIAN JEWS

ANTI-CHRISTMAS

A comparable incident occurred in the California town of Sierra Madre a month earlier when Jewish parents demanded that local school officials discontinue the "bigoted" observance of Christmas in the schools. "By a vote of 3-1," exulted the Anti-Defamation League in its May ADL BULLETIN, "the Board declared 'instruction in religion belongs to the home and to the church and is not a function of the school.' Banned, for all practical purposes, were future school activities with sectarian religious emphasis."

Meaning, of course, that Christmas programs, which organized Jewry defines as "sectarian religious instruction," are hereafter out-
